K2 CAPITAL GROUP OPENS ARIZONA OFFICE

MINNEAPOLIS – K2 Capital Group LLC, a national provider of equipment leasing solutions, announced the company has recently opened a new office in Scottsdale, AZ. Jeff Reardon, a longtime leasing professional, will head the office there and will be responsible for business development and client relations for its West Coast operations.

“We’re seeing more and more lease finance opportunities across the country and we needed another seasoned professional to help us manage that growth,” said Scott Anderson, K2 Capital’s president and chief executive officer. “Jeff is a respected equipment finance expert who knows the medical and technology industries very well. We’re excited to bring him onboard.”

After graduating from the University of Wisconsin, Reardon joined IBM where he had a successful career in sales. He later joined Comdisco, beginning a 24-year career in the hi-tech equipment finance business. Reardon was one of the founding members of Bay 4 Capital, which participated in buying the Comdisco portfolio. After building the portfolio for two years, Bay 4 was acquired by GE, allowing them to enter the IT leasing business as a full-service financing organization.

K2 Capital Group is headquartered in Minneapolis and has another sales office in Colorado. The company offers equipment leasing directly to end users as well as private-label financing solutions to medical equipment manufacturers. The company also offers customized leasing programs for commercial banks that do not have a leasing program of their own.
