K2 CAPITAL OPENS NEW OFFICE LOCATION IN MISSOURI

MINNEAPOLIS – K2 Capital Group LLC, a national provider of equipment leasing solutions, recently announced the opening of its new office location in Chesterfield, a suburb of St. Louis, MO. The office will initially be staffed by members of the company’s Credit and Capital Markets teams.

In addition to its direct leasing business, K2 Capital offers private-label, vendor financing solutions, particularly to medical and technology manufacturers. K2 Capital’s experienced leasing professionals have developed long-standing relationships with some of the world’s largest and most respected equipment manufacturers.

K2 Capital, which is headquartered in Minneapolis, MN, currently has offices originations and operations offices in Colorado and Southern California. Scott Anderson, president and CEO of K2 Capital, says the move to St. Louis is a natural one for the company.

“We have recently established a new relationship with a very dynamic company within the medical manufacturing industry,” he said. “To have a presence in the heart of the Midwest to work with current and prospective customers like that is a nice benefit for us. We’re excited to expand our presence and explore new opportunities in these markets.”
